

How to turn on the Cherokee keyboard on a Google Chromebook:

1. Click on Launcher (small circle to the far bottom left) on the docked icons.
2. Next click on the arrow once to get more options.
3. Click on the Web Store
4. In the Search The Store box at the top left type in Google Input Tools.
5. Once the search is complete download Google Input Tools.
6. After installation open your browser and the second button to the right of the address bar you will see a button called Google Input Tools, click it and a drop down will appear. Click Extension Options.
7. Under the Add Input Tools find CWY for the one key one stroke method and double click to add to the Selected Input Tools. Double click CWY ႠႢႣႤႥ SZBE for phonetic typing to be added to the Selected Input Tools. Also make sure to choose English from the Add Input Tools.
8. Now to type in Cherokee open a browser and again click the second button to the right of the address bar and the Selected Input Languages will appear and you can choose Cherokee or English.
